

School Hall Procedures

Students may take breaks

Students may take five-minute brain breaks in any class. They may draw, read, write or rest during this time. If a student is feeling dysregulated, they may go to the self-sooth room for their break. iPads must always remain in the classroom.

Students are expected to use their class time wisely

If a student refuses to participate in a whole class activity or refuses to take notes or work on their online program, their name will be written on the stamp sheet. That means the students will be expected to make up their lesson on their peers enjoy free time. When they have completed their Friday, their iPads will be unlocked, and they can play games and participate in other activities.

Students may use notes on quizzes and have unlimited retakes on quizzes!

All students can succeed! TMS students must take notes on each lesson. They may use those notes on their quizzes. If they don't pass a quiz, that's okay! Their teacher will reset the quiz after they have completed remediation on the lesson.

The music app is a privilege for students who work productively

If a student refuses a class, or if their music app has become a barrier to their learning, the principal will remove the iHeart app from their iPads until they complete a whole day's lesson. Music needs to be appropriate for school hall. You may lose your music privileges if you are listening to obscene music. You MAY not log out of iHeart and may lose this privilege if you do so.
